

Brown bag lunch seminars

Michaelmas Term 2015

Wednesdays 1pm, Vaughan SCR, Somerville College. Everybody Welcome

Week 1 14th October

Alfy Gathorne-Hardy (Oxford India Centre for Sustainable Development)

Bridging the gap – can we simultaneously include local and global considerations for food security?

Week 2 21st October

Maan Barua (Geography, Oxford)

Making, production, growth: on human and natural histories in the Anthropocene

Week 3 28th October

Nishant Kumar (Zoology, Oxford)

Benefits and Costs of being a Black Kite (Milvus migrans) in Delhi, India

Week 4 4th November

Narendra Killada (Geography, Oxford)

Politics of Bauxite mining in Visakhapatnam district, India

Week 5 11th November

Siddharth Arora (Maths, Oxford)

Detecting and monitoring the symptoms of Parkinson's disease using smartphones

Week 6 18th November

Ranu Sinha (Geography, Oxford)

Increasing rainfall variability yet growing agricultural productivity: Analyzing the impacts of irrigation investment in Madhya Pradesh on water users

Week 7 25th November

Shahana Munazir (Anthropology, Oxford)

Girls between 'modernity' and Islamic traditions in Islamic schools in India

Week 8 2nd December

Patrick Clibbens (History, Oxford)

Some new approaches to policy making and democracy in India

Convenors: Dr Alfred Gathorne-Hardy and Dr Maan Barua

Enquiries: salome.hughes@some.ox.ac.uk