

Somerville College

The Dorothy Hodgkin Memorial Lecture

Professor Dame Janet Thornton
DBE, FRS, FMedSci

‘From molecules to medicine’

*The advent of personal genome data is changing our understanding of biology.
Dame Janet will present the thrills and challenges of working in this breath-taking world of molecules and medicine.*

This lecture is part of the Oxford International Women's Festival

Flora Anderson Hall, Somerville College,
Woodstock Road, Oxford OX2 6HD

Friday 10 March, 5.30pm

*followed by a reception
All welcome*