

MEDICS' DAY
SATURDAY 4 MARCH 2017

The Earlier the Better – will healthcare today meet the challenge?

From 10.00am: Coffee and registration in the Margaret Thatcher Centre

10.30 Welcome by the President of the Medics Association, Dame Fiona Caldicott, Chair of the Oxford University Hospitals NHS Trust

Morning session to be chaired by Dr June Raine (Physiology 1971), Somerville Medics Committee

10.40 Professor Sir Marc Feldmann, Kennedy Institute of Rheumatology, Oxford

Getting closer to a cure for Rheumatoid Arthritis

11.10 Professor Kamila Hawthorne MBE (Physiology 1978), Associate Dean for Medicine, Clinical Professor of Medical Education University of Surrey

General practice – a gatekeeper role no longer for tomorrow's GPs?

11.40 Dr Bernadette Lavery (Physiology 1979), Consultant Oncologist Churchill Hospital

Earlier diagnosis and cancer outcomes – can we do better?

12.10 Dr Emma Ladds (Physiology 2007) Academic GP Trainee, Oxford

Five lessons that should be learned as a doctor... the earlier the better

12.30 Dr Siddharth Arora (Somerville Research Fellow)

Medical research in Somerville Today – early diagnosis of Parkinson's Disease

12.45 Reception

1.15 Luncheon in Hall

Afternoon session to be chaired by Dr Natasha Robinson (Physiology 1972), Somerville Medics Committee

2.30 Dr Helen Ashdown (Janet Vaughan Tutor in Clinical Medicine) Ig Nobel Prize 2016, Department of Primary Care

*Speed bumps – just a pain in the , or a new surgical diagnostic test?

2.45 Showcasing of Student Finalists' projects:

Students will give short (5 minute) presentations. These are their Final Honour School Research Project vivas, describing the laboratory projects (8-14 weeks long) undertaken as part of their FHS year. A Prize for 'Potential for Scientific Progress' will be awarded.

3.45 Tea in the Margaret Thatcher Centre