Re: Somerville Law Induction Course 2017

Dear First Year Lawyers

Welcome to Somerville College!

There will be an induction course for new Somerville law students on 2nd and 3rd October 2017. As the course will cover important introductory material to assist you in commencing legal study, attendance is mandatory. Accordingly, you should ensure that you arrive in College by the evening of Sunday, 1st October 2017 at the very latest, although your accommodation in College will be available from earlier in the day. Contact academic.office@some.ox.ac.uk if you have any questions about arrival or accommodation.

In addition to this letter, you should find on the website link that you have been sent a timetable for the course, which is broken down into six sessions. There is no preparation (other than thinking about any questions you may have concerning Oxford University, Somerville College and/or studying Law) for the first session. The remaining sessions all require some reading and preparation. The materials for these sessions can be found at the same website link as this letter. Please read and think carefully about all these materials ahead of the relevant session.

As there is a reasonable amount of material to get through, we would advise you to start preparation sooner rather than later.

We look forward to meeting you in College on the morning of 2nd October 2017.

Yours faithfully,

J DICKSON, C HARE, Z VERMEER, T LUTZI
