The multicultural upbringing of today's youth in metropolitan cities around the globe imbues a precocious worldview in the digital natives who conceive of and seek educational and professional opportunities differently from the high-achievers with entrenched values of yesteryears. Our distinguished panel of speakers will share their insights on:

- What kinds of experiences, preoccupations, and jobs are trending among recent graduates?
- How can educators and policy makers adapt to their values and needs?
- How to give wings to the next generation of talents and co-navigate challenges with them in an increasingly versatile world?

Venue:

LT 1, The Institute of Chinese Studies
The Chinese University of Hong Kong
