Works have continued to progress across the site over the last period, with the welfare cabin fit out now complete and the welfare cabins fully operational and in use.

A section of the existing boundary wall at the south of the site has been carefully demolished to create the required opening between the new works and the existing college buildings.

The new cycle hoops opposite the Jericho Medical Centre have been completed and are now in use. Hoarding lights have been installed around the site boundary to improve visibility and enhance the appearance of the site.

The next phase of works will be to break up and remove the existing concrete slab located behind the demolished wall, adjacent to the existing college building.
